3 NEW OFFICIALS TAKE OFFICE TODAY

Indiana State Normal School at Muncie, Sherwood was elected to succeed Burris and also appointed to fill the unexpired portion of the term.

Only two appointments have been announced by Sherwood. They are Raymond E. Blackwell, of Lebanon as deputy superintendent and George A. Spencer, superintendent of the Tipton county schools, as assistant superintendent.

Burris had no assistant. He was assistant superintendent under L. W. Hines present head of the Indiana Normal at Terre Haute, and former superintendent of public instruction. When Hines resigned to head the school Burris left the office of assistant vacant.

No successor has been appointed to succeed John J. Brown as chairman of the state tax board, whose term as a member of the board also expired today. Despite this fact Brown will remain in office until a successor is appointed and qualified.

Attends Inauguration

Will O. Feulner of this city, secretary of the Indiana Republican Editorial association, went to Indianapolis today, where he attended the inaugural ceremonies for three of the newly elected state officers, including Fred Schortemeier, who became secretary of state today. Mr. Feulner also will attend a meeting of the committees in outlining the winter program for the editorial association gathering.

pression that a new regime is shortly coming into power was obvious. In the senate William M. Butler, who led the political campaign of President Coolidge to victory, sat in the place formerly occupied by the distinguished figure of Henry Cabot Lodge. Nearby were the familiar faces of Senator James Wadsworth of New York, who may ascend to Lodge's leadership of the Republican majority, and Senator William E. Borah, the silver-tongued statesman who is to sit in Lodge's chair at the head of the important foreign relations committee.

In the third row on the Republican side was the vacant chair of Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, whose suicide during the recess astounded and horrified his friends. The chair is to be filled by a special election within two weeks.

Down front among the Republicans sat Senator Robert M. LaFollette, the man who led a presidential movement against the two old major parties and polled nearly 5,000,000 votes. Some of his friends were there—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, the young Democratic attorney who ran as vice-president with LaFollette; Senator Smith W. Brookhart, who succeeded in re-electing himself in Iowa by the slenderest of majorities; and Senator Magnus Johnson, the dirt farmer from Minnesota, who went down in defeat.

Each of them sat apart. They were not ostracized in the general handshaking that went the rounds. But none of them were called out into the cloak-room for the little conferences which were held among the leaders.

Two more new faces appeared, those of Rice W. Means, of Colorado and Jess H. Metcalf of Rhode Island. Metcalf came to fill the vacancy caused by death of Senator Le Baron Colt and Means was elected to fill out the short term of Sen-

Two more new faces appeared, those of Rice W. Means, of Colorado and Jess H. Metcalf of Rhode Island. Metcalf came to fill the vacancy caused by death of Senator Le Baron Colt and Means was elected to fill out the short term of Senator Alva Adams, whose appointment was temporary.

The scene in the House was not much changed. Only two deaths occurred there among the 435 members during the recess. Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, who is to go over to the senate in March to take the seat of Senator David Walsh of Massachusetts, whom he defeated, called the gathering to order.

Only the usual formalities were scheduled for the opening day. Later there will be party caucuses to get the party organizations started again and map the program of the session.

Consideration of Muscle Shoals legislation is first on order of business in the Senate, by agreement reached before adjournment last June. Appropriation bills to be taken up immediately by the House.

House committee chairmen already have begun work on the first appropriation bills to be considered. That is the first order of business in the house. The senate must mark time with other matters until the appropriation bills come over. All appropriation measures must originate in the House.

Other matters which may come up sometime during the session if both houses do not become swamped with the appropriation bills which have the right of way, include:

THE WORLD COURT proposal which has been held in the senate foreign relations committee for two years. Several new projects for American participation of the International court of Justice at the Hague have been prepared for introduction.

The proposal for reduction of freight rates, which may be undertaken by the Senate interstate commerce committee of which Senator Ellison D. Smith, a Democrat, is chairman. Resolutions authorizing the interstate commerce commission to take the proper steps for such a reduction on an equitable basis, have been prepared for introduction and will be considered.

Several proposals for farm relief, including a modified version of the McNary-Haugen bill, which failed of passage in the same congress at the last session. These proposals are to be introduced at once by the agricultural committees of both Houses, with prospects remote for their final enactment.

The postal salaries increase bill which was vetoed by the president in the closing days of the last session is to come up for re-adoption with some modifications which may meet the objections of the chief executive.

These matters, however, have been somewhat shunted into the background by the necessity for speed in the appropriation measures. A contest is certain to develop over some of the bills—especially the Naval appropriations measure. But it appears there will be breaking of bones and little nashing of teeth. However, in the words of old Jim Preston, who has seen a score of congresses come and go as he sat ruler of the newspaper men in the senate gallery: "You can never tell what a congress is going to do."

IMPORTANT MEETING

Every member of Franklin Lodge, No. 35, is urged to attend the meeting next Wednesday evening at which, time an important amendment will be considered.

Blountsville—Blountsville is to operate its own electric plant for light and power. At a special election it was decided that the present privately owned plant should be done away with by a vote of 67 to 0.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate

The undersigned Commissioner by virtue of an order of the Rush Circuit Court, made and entered in a cause therein pending; entitled Marion Owen et al. vs. Gertrud Gosnell et al. and Numbered 3416 upon the docket thereof, hereby gives notice that at the residence of Lafayette Peck, two miles south-west of Moscow, Orange Township, Indiana, on

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1924
AT 2:00 O'CLOCK P. M.

of said day he will offer for sale at private sale and at not less than the full appraised value thereof, the following described real estate to-wit: Beginning at the southeast corner of the west half of the northwest quarter of Section thirty (30) in Township twelve (12) north, range nine (9) east, thence north one hundred sixty-two (162) rods, four (4) links to the northeast corner of said half quarter Section; thence west forty-seven (47) rods and three (3) links; thence south one hundred sixty-two (162) rods, four (4) links to the south line of the said quarter Section; thence east forty-seven (47) rods, three (3) links to the place of beginning, containing forty-seven (47) acres and one hundred (100) rods.

Also a part of the northeast quarter of Section thirty (33) township twelve (12) north, range nine (9) east, commencing at a stone which is eleven (11) rods west from the southeast corner of said quarter section; thence north one hundred sixty-two (162) rods and six (6) links to a stone on the north line of said quarter; thence west one hundred one (101) rods and forty (40) links to a stone, thence south one hundred sixty-two (162) rods and six (6) links to a stone on the south line of said quarter, thence east one hundred one (101) rods and forty (40) links to the place of beginning, containing one hundred four (104) acres.

This is the Millikan Owen land and is located about two miles south of Moscow, and is fine corn land.

All situate in Rush County, Indiana. This land is divided into two tracts of forty-seven (47) acres and one hundred four (104) acres, and is fertile land and all under cultivation and either would make a very desirable farm.

Terms of Sale

One-half of purchase money, cash and remainder due in one year. Purchaser to execute his note bearing six per cent (6%) interest from date and secured by a first mortgage upon the real estate sold. Purchaser has the privilege of paying all cash.

LAFAYETTE PECK, Commissioner.

HINSHAW WILL TRY CONSPIRACY CASE

Newcastle Judge Selected to Act in Trial of Tom Meek and Raymond Mofford

DIVORCE EVIDENCE HEARD

Judge Rufus Hinshaw of Newcastle has been selected as the trial judge in the state case against Tom Meek and Raymond Mofford, charged with conspiracy and grand larceny, in connection with the alleged theft of two steers.

The defendant Meek applied for a change of judge and in the list submitted by Judge Sparks, the state struck off Gas Holscher of Richmond and James A. Collins of Indianapolis and the defense struck off Fremont Miller of Franklin and Fred Hines of Noblesville, leaving the appointment open to Judge Hinshaw of Newcastle. The judge-elect will set the case for trial.

In the circuit court Saturday, Judge Sparks heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Elsie Bush against Shelby Bush, but no decision was rendered, and the matter taken under advisement.

POSTOFFICE LOOTED, LOSS PLACED AT $300

Robbers Break Into Princeton Office During Night and Escape With Stamps and Money

FAIL ON THE LARGER SAFE

Princeton, Ind., Dec. 1—Robbers broke into the postoffice here during the night and escaped with $300 in stamps and money.

The bandits used an acetylene torch to open a small safe from which they obtained the loot. They attempted to break open a large safe but used up the gas for their torch before they had burned through the door.

Police at headquarters directly across the street from the postoffice were unaware of the robbery until this morning.

No trace has been found of the bandits and it is not known how many participated in the robbery.

PIONEER DIES

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 1—Mrs. Mary Finch, 86, is dead at her home near here today, her death cutting another link connecting the present with the pioneer days of the county in which she always lived. Her father, Samuel Rup, who came here in 1829, was a circuit rider and organized many churches in this vicinity.

ALL WORN OUT?

So Was Mrs. Sutton Who Tells Her Experience

Are you tired all the time; worn-out night and day? Does your back ache as if it would break? Do you suffer dizziness, headaches, rheumatic twinges or distressing urinary disorders? You have good cause, then, to be alarmed about your kidneys. Do as many of your townfolk recommend. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. This Rushville case is convincing:

Mrs. Wm. Sutton, 613 W. Third St., says: "Backache wore me out. Severe attacks of headaches came often and I also became dizzy and spots before my eyes blurred my sight. My kidneys didn't act often enough, so I used Doan's Pills from Pitman & Wilson's Drug Store, and they cured me of kidney trouble."

TO HEAR DR. WILLIAM WEIR

Presbyterian Men Going to Newcastle for Dinner Conference

Several Rushville men from the First Presbyterian church will motor to Newcastle this evening for a dinner conference of Presbyterian men at the Friends church, which will be addressed by Dr. William Weir, general director of men's work of the church.

Laymen from all over this section of the state are expected to be present.

Dr. Weir took up his work with the church ten years ago and has spent much of his time traveling over the country awakening the men of the Presbyterian church to their responsibilities to the church. Dr. Weir is a forceful speaker and is in so great demand that the local church feels fortunate in securing him.

FIRST SEALS SALE AMOUNTS TO $115

Active solicitation was under way today to sell health bonds to business men, manufacturing plants, fraternal and civic organizations and Sunday schools and churches.

Those who do not care to invest in health bonds will be given an opportunity to buy Christmas seals, the little messengers of gladness that may be used on Christmas mail. Seals will be placed on sale in the postoffice and elsewhere in the city for the convenience of those who wish to buy them and help in movement that is gradually driving tuberculosis out of the state.

A large percent of the money raised through the sale of Seals and health bonds remains in Rush county to be used in the local campaign. It finances the tuberculosis clinics that are held at different periods of the year, when persons may go for free physical examination. By means of the clinics many cases of incipient tuberculosis have been discovered and arrested, and the patient restored to good health.

A Mighty Arm—Thou hast a mighty arm; strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand. Justice and judgment are the habitation of Thy throne; mercy and truth shall go before Thy face. Psalm 89: 13, 14.

PRAYER—Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised. In the courts of Thy house will we praise Thee continuously.

Still Land of Opportunity

Radicals and demagogues, to get a hearing, frequently blame the capitalists system with favoring the rich and powerful as against the poor and unfortunate. But examples can be found every day which prove that America is still the land of opportunity and that men with a purpose in life can accomplish something.

Fifty-three years ago an Irish lad of nine came to the United States with his parents. He went to the public schools and started work as an office boy. He is now president of the American Bankers' Association, the world's largest financial organization. He is also president of one of the largest savings banks in this country.

Twelve years ago a Philadelphia junkman was barely eking out an existence with a boney horse and rickety wagon. His business presented an opportunity which less ingenious men did not see—the salvaging of automobiles. He didn't linger long in the junk business. He visualized the possibilities in the field of used parts and instead of attempting to repair a wrecked car or put a second-hand car in condition for resale, he salvaged the parts.

Today his business is that of supplying automobile parts, of which he is said to have one million varieties. He takes pride in the fact that he can supply parts for virtually every car made since 1912. His orders come from all parts of the United States—some for a single part and others by truck loads.

In addition to becoming immensely wealthy, he has performed a useful service by salvaging waste material that would never have been restored to usefulness.

There are but two striking examples of the democracy of opportunity in America, and when someone tells you that opportunities come only to those who have accumulated money, just be reminded that resourcefulness and a willingness to work brings rewards regardless of your station in life or financial condition.

A Raw, Sore Throat

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Mustrale

And Mustrale won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Mustrale is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds on the chest. Keep it handy for instant use.

To Mothers: Mustrale is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Mustrale. 35c and 65c jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

Burden on The State

The burden of education rests on the state. Appropriations for state aid to weak districts are a part of the fulfillment of the obligation to maintain a system of public schools placed upon the State by its constitution. District tax levies are somewhat in the nature of aid to the State. The limit of district school tax having been reached, the state must "carry on" to the point where a school system of some degree of uniformity and equality of opportunity is maintained.

These are the main points of a remarkable decision rendered by the supreme court of Oklahoma on September 9. It was brought about by an attempt to invalidate an appropriation of $650,000 made by the legislature last spring to aid weak districts to hold an 8-month term. Depending on the good faith of the state, about 5,200 teachers stayed at their work, lengthened the terms in 1,065 schools, and helped about 176,800 children. The greater part of this good was done in rural districts where the small weak schools are.

This is the school policy that is followed in Indiana, though there is occasionally some complaint against it.

The decision greatly strengthens the position of rural education in Oklahoma. It says among other things:

"Without affirmative aid by the legislature the constitutional mandate for an efficient free-school system will be unexecuted in those weak school districts."

"The sovereign State and we as citizens are as much interested in the education of a youth in a remote part of our State as of one who lives in our capital city, because this interest is based upon the child's relation to society generally, of which we form a part."

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

WASHINGTON—When Congress passed the law putting regulation of meat packers and stockyards in the hands of the Department of Agriculture, back in 1921, it set in motion the wheels that put Howard M. Gore, farmer and stockman of Clarksburg, W. Va., into President Coolidge's cabinet.

For Gore came to Washington as a member of the packer and stockyard administration.

In that job he demonstrated such thoroughgoing familiarity with farm problems and such ability as an administrator and arbitrator that when C. W. Pugsley resigned as assistant secretary in September, 1923, President Coolidge stepped him up into that post as assistant to Secretary Wallace.

His record as assistant secretary was such that Coolidge now names him as head of the department, following Wallace's death.

It is not unlikely that Gore would have served in the Coolidge cabinet through the next four years, had he not been elected to the governorship of West Virginia, beginning next March. His term in the cabinet is, because of this, limited to a little over three months.

Like Coolidge when he came to the presidency, Gore is not an "organization" man. When he announced his candidacy for the governorship he wasn't any more on the inside with the G. O. P. powers in his state than Coolidge was nationally with President Harding's death step him into the White House. Perhaps that fact has created a bond between them.

But just as Coolidge, as president, was able to take over control of the G. O. P. machinery, nationally, and revamp it to suit his own ideas, so may Gore, as governor, overhaul the Republican machine in his home state.

As an outsider in his race for the Republican nomination for governor, Gore was nicknamed "The Lone Wolf." Old-timers smiled a bit at his presumption in backing the organization choice for the office.

But as a farmer in West Virginia, though Gore never had laid any political fences, he had built a hog-tight corral into which to round up a personal following of West Virginia farm folks, old and young.

He had for years been a booster for and worker in the boys' and girls' farm clubs.

He was an expert judge of live stock, and at county and state fairs had handed out red, white and blue ribbons to hundreds of proud exhibitors.

He had stimulated state pride in agricultural achievement by hitting the top of the New York market each year with his fatted lambs, and by turning out annually 1200 head or so of fat Hereford steers for the English market.

When the votes were counted it was found Gore's farmer friends had put "The Lone Wolf" over the top for the nomination, and on Nov. 4 they turned the trick again and elected him.

Whereupon his nickname was changed overnight to "The Miracle Man."

A STOCKY round headed, smooth faced man of 46 Gore looks just the sort of "common-sense" individual Coolidge would prefer at the head of the Department of Agriculture.

That he can apply common sense, his friends say, was demonstrated some years ago when he was preparing to buy several hundred additional head of steers for fattening.

His mother, with whom he lives in Clarksburg, his wife being dead, remarked at the increasing numbers of jobless men applying at the kitchen door for a "handout."

Gore put two and two together and got the right answer.

Increasing numbers of jobless men meant a decreasing market for fancy beefsteaks.

If the market was going off, there'd be no money in buying cattle to feed. So he didn't buy.

And the slump in the market that soon followed didn't catch him long on high priced steers.

BILL PROVIDES FOR THEATRE CENSORSHIP

To be Introduced in Next Legislature by Earl W. Payne, State Senator-Elect

MINISTERS BACK OF BILL

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 1.—Strict theatrical censorship and rigid restriction of Sunday theatrical performances and motion picture exhibitions will be asked in a bill to be introduced in the legislature by Earl W. Payne, state senator elect from Monroe, Green and Brown counties he announced today.

The Rev. Roscoe Carpenter, of Green county, is said to be trying to organize a fight for the bill in the House and Senate, and ministers throughout the state are said to be back of the bill.

Before the election, the Motion Picture Exhibitors' association sent out to all exhibitors letters denying a report that Ed Jackson, now Governor-elect, was in favor of abolishing Sunday movies.

"We have been too prone to entirely ignore the rising tide of propaganda that is being subtly spread through the agency of the motion picture," Payne said. "While no radical law will be proposed, it is our aim to restrict public exhibits at all times so as to make them truly reflect the moral standards of the American home."

BACK ON THE JOB AGAIN

Now that the basketball season is in full blast, and most of the columnists are back from their summer vacations, Hittin' 'em once more says hello to everybody, and as he embarks on the third year as the pilot of this column, he extends greetings to everyone. The success of the three and a half months trip ahead, depends upon you. Whatever team you are for, boost them with your contribs—make 'em short, snappy and to the point.

The policy of this column is primarily to boost the Rushville Lions. An occasional job might be directed at your favorite team, but you always have the privilege of striking back. Rather than to throw bouquets, just to get back a bunch of sweet flowers, is not Hittin' 'ems aim. A good sport is the fellow that can smile in the face of defeat and know that he is licked. We expect to get licked several times, and we would rather be expecting a defeat, than to be all built up on downing every team in the state. Let's come up smilin' every time.

REAL BUNCH OF SPORTS

When it comes to being defeated, Newcastle is the best bunch of sports in the state. In past years they took defeat with a smile and complimented the winners. In the game the other night, when Rushville turned the trick, the same spirit was revealed. And they didn't dedicate any new gym for Rushville either.

Was the Photographer a Sport?

Newcastle dedicated the gym at Connersville last week and lost by one point. Three or four times during the game, and every time that Newcastle was in possession of the ball, the photographer took a picture of the teams in action. A flash light used by high powered electric bulbs blinded the Newcastle players and the aim at the basket was completely wiped away. Newcastle fans almost lost their reputation for being good sports. The photographer would have lost his valuable equipment, if he had placed it close enough to the Newcastle rosters. Finally Newcastle called time out, until the photographer got through taking the dedication pictures. The game was lost by one point. Apologies were offered after the game. Newcastle will not dedicate any more gyms where flash light pictures are on the schedule too.

TUNE UP YOUR LIZZIES

Hagerstown is the next stop for Rushville. The Lions play up there Friday night. Get ready to go along.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

After Hagerstown comes a trip to Columbus. Fans are talking about a special train like they took a few years ago. Why not start in now and make arrangements for the train? Start something Mr. Butler.

Connersville now claims that their lkniks trimmed the Trojans down to Hittin' 'ems size, so the Lions could beat them. 'Taint so—the Camels gave us the extra humps for the Friday night game.

Speaking of the Camels, Hittin' 'em only wants to say that Shelbyville has a fine team, and their record will be watched with interest by Rush county fans.

The team that will bear watching in this vicinity is the Cows from Moscow. Anyone in Milroy will vouch for that.

HAS A BASEBALL TEAM

Bob Newbold, forward on the Rushville team, is the oldest child in his family, with five other brothers coming on. Homer Ganker, captain and forward on the Trojan team, who fell and received an injury Friday night, has Bill outclassed when it comes to brothers. He is one of 9 boys in the family.

Just a few hours before the Gaud-ker family came to Rushville for the game, their house caught fire in Newcastle. Someone called the fire department, but it wasn't necessary as Mr. Ganker had enough held at home to put out two fires.

Spiceiland has lost the first six games. The players signed a petition remonstrating against their coach, and threatened to disband unless the township trustee provided a new coach. The parents of the boys took a hand in the matter, ridiculed the action of the boys to such an extent that the dove of peace is once more flitting about the gym, and the team is now going to buckle down and win some games, just to show the coach that they can play basketball.

A Rushville basketball fan was approached recently in a nearby city concerning the prospects of the locals. He was asked concerning the coach here, and the Lion rooster replied that it didn't make any difference, that the boys did the playing.

Coach John Swain made rapid strides with the Lions last year, and it appears now as if the Lions are going to reward him for his two year's efforts.

HOW ABOUT IT JOHN?

The coach came from Lizton. The high school won a game there the other night by playing overtime. We see now where the Lions get that overtime stuff.

Rushville isn't to take part in the county tourney. In years gone by, the county teams sorta objected as they wanted to fight it out themselves. This year Carthage is vexed because Rushville isn't in. Carthage will have two swings at the Lions, which should satisfy them.

HAS MOVED FROM MOSCOW

Louis E. Means, former czar of Moscow, is holding forth this season in McNamara's old town—New Palestine.

A VOTE OF THANKS

Hittin' 'em is greatly indebted to Miss Della Rea, Rushville high school senior, who contributed the drawing for the new head that appears over this column. She is an artist on the Holcad staff. Thanks Miss Rea.

Morristown is a team that seems to be taking in a great many honors this year. Their latest victim was Carthage, who lost 64 to 10 at Morristown Saturday night.

Even Before The Game, They Had Fish Picked Out

Star Passer of the West

The west has a habit of producing star forward-passers. Some years back Notre Dame had Johnny Mohardt, one of the greatest passers of all time. California had Erick Muller, who could throw a ball as far as most players can kick. Ohio State had Hoge Workman, a tricky and accurate passer. Now Michigan comes to the front with Benny Friedman, whose passes lifted him to the top rank for the season of 1924.

Goes While Going is Good

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 1.—Practical business judgment and a lot of good common sense prompted Walter Johnson one of the most popular players that ever played baseball, to get out of the major leagues with his head high and the cheers ringing in his ears.

It is a much more pleasing spectacle to see the grand veteran walking out the front door as a star pitcher than to wait for that inevitable exit out of the back gate into the minors as a has-been.

Johnson leaves the major leagues as a major league pitcher. He has been around for nearly twenty years in the American League, but a smart head and a stout arm would have prolonged his career for several more years if he had elected to remain and go the way of those who stick at the game too long.

Johnson knew that the day must come when he would get a call to the office and hear the old, old story from Clarke Griffith: "You've been a great pitcher, Walter, but you know you're through now. We must have some youth on our club. Where do you want to go? Maybe I can find a minor league manager's job for you."

No one will have to find a place for Walter Johnson. He found it himself and in buying the Oakland Club of the Pacific Coast League, the veteran landed a place where he will be happy and where he should prosper. He can pitch for a long time in the Pacific Coast League and he can continue as a manager when the great arm goes back on him. He will be an attraction on the coast and that means business. There are no other pitchers on the coast who are major league pitchers and there is no more popular athlete in the world than Walter Johnson.

His decision to get out of the major leagues when his glory had not been tarnished recalls a conversation after he had lost his second start in the world's series and after he had almost been written out of the big leagues by the experts.

"I'm not through", he said. "I've got a lot more pitching in me. I don't say that it's major league pitching, but it's good enough for the minor leagues and that's where I may be next year. I know that I could stay with Washington as long as I desired, but I know that the time would come when I would be doing most of my work on the bench. That time is not coming. I'm going to beat it.

"I'm getting to the age where I should get settled some place permanently. I want to get a permanent residence where I can be with my family more regularly and where I can give my children an education. They can't get good schooling traveling around from place to place.

"I love the Pacific Coast and I would be happy living there and my family would be happy. I have some money saved and I'm going to buy a Pacific Coast League club. If I can swing a deal, I'll be something on the coast. You writers have said so many nice things about me that I can't help but know I am an attraction. I want to get into the minor leagues as a major leaguer not as a has-been or a cast-off from the big time."

WILL PROVIDE A TEST OF STRENGTH

Three Intersectional Games Will Give Better Idea of Football Teams Prowess

ALL ON THE PACIFIC COAST

Syracuse to Meet University of Southern California—Notre Dame Plays New Year's Day

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Dec. 1.—Only three intersectional games on the Pacific Coast remain to finish the 1924 football season. Syracuse is now enroute for a game next Saturday with the University of Southern California. The University of Pennsylvania and the champion Notre Dame team have games on New Year's day against California and Stanford.

For the first time in a good many years these intersectional games will bring together representative teams of their local sections and a fair test of the respective merits of the far western and middle-western and eastern football should be acquired.

Notre Dame, beyond all doubt, is the greatest team of the year and in Stanford the Indiana eleven will meet a team that has a fair claim to the Pacific Coast championship.

Pennsylvania has one of the three undefeated teams of the east and one of the best in the section and will find in California, an eleven that for several years has been one of the best in the country.

Syracuse and Southern California seem to be evenly matched as they have good teams that have done this year.

With the exception of a few minor games to be played next Saturday, the season closed in the south, east and middle-west.

Alabama was chosen the champion team of the southern conference but Centre probably will claim the championship of the south by reason of victories over Alabama and Georgia.

Missouri won the championship of the Missouri Valley conference. Chicago won the title in the western conference. Baylor finished first in the southern conference. Idaho and Gonzaga tied for the top ranking in the Pacific northwestern conference. Colorado won the title in the Rocky Mountain district for the second consecutive season.

Dartmouth, Yale and Pennsylvania were undefeated in the eastern section but they engaged in tie-games. The Army was not defeated by an eastern team but lost to Notre Dame and tied with Yale.

The Army won the service championship by beating the Navy in Baltimore before a crowd of 80,000. The great fighting defense of the Navy kept its goal line from being crossed and the cadets had to win by four field goals kicked by Ed Garbisch, the champion and star center, who finished eight years of varsity football in the game.

WOULD TAKE SHORTER TIME

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1.—Private feeder lines from Indiana is by air to the main transcontinental air mail line at Chicago were predicted today by Robert Bryson, Indianapolis postmaster.

If the air mail service grows as fast as the parcel post service (and Bryson predicted that it would) Indianapolis, for instance, would be within the next three or four years only two and one half to three hours from Chicago and correspondingly nearer to New York and San Francisco.

By the air mail service now about seventy-two hours is saved on a letter to San Francisco, he said. It takes five or six days for a letter to go through by train while by air, a letter mailed here one morning will be in San Francisco by 5:05 the evening of the following day.

About forty letters are received here by air mail daily, Bryson said.

CARTHAGE GETS A BEATING

(Defeated by Morristown High School Saturday Night, 64 to 10)

Morristown high school gave Carthage a terrible beating Saturday night on the floor, in Morristown, with the final count being 64 to 10. Carthage was clear off form, and in the first half made only 3 points, while Morristown had 20. Carthage played with their line-up shifted, due to the absence of a player. The Morristown second team defeated the Carthage second team 32 to 3.

Carthage has an open date next Friday and their next scheduled game will be December 12 at Cumberland.

SCHOOL HOUSE IS GUTTED BY FLAMES

ficient to reach the top of the building.

Two hose lines were laid, and the domestic pressure from the fire hydrants was not sufficient to reach the roof, or was not strong enough to break the glass in the upstairs windows. The pumper, which was delayed in making an attempt to reach a place to pump from the mill race, was placed at a fire plug and boosted the pressure to where it was needed.

Firemen fought the flames for almost an hour. The fire completely gutted the upstairs rooms, and water did considerable damage to the lower floors. Only the main floor rooms were occupied with school, as the upstairs is used as a community hall for the colored people.

Before the roof collapsed, the school books and wraps belonging to the pupils were removed without any loss being suffered. No other property was in danger, as the wind was favorable.

The building is heated with a furnace and it is believed that the flue was defective, and with the dry shingles, the flames spread rapidly.

Golden Rule Sunday, Dec. 7

The Golden Rule Note Book gives the following information concerning International Golden Rule Sunday Dec. 7, 1924.

"At an international conference in Geneva, Switzerland, September, 1923, representatives of twenty philanthropic organizations from fourteen countries were facing the perplexing problems of the Near East."

"The proposal went forth that Sunday December 2, 1923, be observed as Golden Rule Sunday for the strengthening of international friendship and co-operation and the practical application of the Golden Rule to at least some of the world's problems."

"So successfully was it celebrated last year, that in response to popular demand from several countries the International Near East Association, meeting in Geneva in April 1924, designated Golden Rule Sunday for 1924."

A NATION OF CHILDREN

"Dr. John H. Finley, editor of the New York Times, while in the Near East this summer, reviewed 11,000 orphaned children who marched past in a single afternoon. Some of them were so small they had to be carried on the shoulders of the older boys. Government officials declared that at least 75 percent of these children would have perished during the past year had it not been for outside relief. On a hillside, overlooking ancient Sidon, is the Bird's Nest orphanage, so called because it nestles 407 birds, all of kindergarten age. Five hundred miles away on the island of Cephalonia, is the 'Doll House' sheltering babies and children, who were born several hundred miles distant in Turkey, and have little or no knowledge of the fate of their fathers and mothers. Most of these children would not be living today if it had not been for 'Golden Rule' philanthropy."

"The older children are given industrial training that will lead to self-support and industrial leadership. As rapidly as possible the children in the orphanages are being placed in homes or apprenticed in industry."

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

On this day all persons who believe in Golden Rule are asked to provide for their Sunday dinner approximately the same simple menu provided for the tens of thousands of children in the Near East Relief orphanages. It is not a fast or a "starvation meal"; it is a fare on which a hundred thousand children have attained health and strength with a death rate lower than the published death rate of any large city in the world.

Society for Mental Hygiene

The Indiana Society for Mental hygiene will hold its annual meeting December 8 in the assembly room of the Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis. Morning session at 9:30, afternoon session at 1:30; evening session at 8 p. m. Persons interested in Mental Health for the community are invited to attend.

Arlington, Bert Whiting and family of Blue Ridge, Frank Whiting of south of the city, James Whiting and Dennis Jones of Milroy and Clifton King of Bradford, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Phares were host and hostess to the annual meeting of the Logan Club, Friday evening, at their beautiful country home in Shelby county. Thirty-seven guests were present, including Prof. G. N. Logan, instructor in Newcastle city school, former principal of the Arlington school. The club is an organization of the former pupils of Mr. Logan, who hold him in high esteem and look forward to these meetings with a very great degree of pleasure. The evening was spent socially and with a program consisting of instrumental music, songs and an old fashioned spelling bee. Angel food cake and brick ice cream was served for refreshments and the guests leaving at a late hour, said it was one of the happiest and jolliest meetings the club has ever enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Osborn, also of Shelby county.

Blanket Weather

The Secret of a Good Night's Sleep

To sleep the long night through without any interruption from early morning cold, is doubly assured with our blankets. The excellent quality of the fiber used in the weaving provides a high degree of protection from cold and offers exceptional lightness of weight.

COTTON

Our Cotton Blankets serve splendidly as sheet blankets. The soft cotton fiber retains warmth and does not scratch the body. As a cover they are eminently serviceable because of the warmth and beauty.

WOOL

When the bitter cold nights of winter penetrate every nook and cranny of the house, a wool blanket is very much of a necessity. Each bed should have one, with plenty of body and width, light enough to permit of uninterrupted slumber.

A Mystery of the North Woods

A sheriff, a coroner and two Indian guides were, on last reports, ploughing their way through the north woods to a lonely cabin (seen below), 70 miles from Warroad, Minn., the nearest railway town, to investigate the murder of Mrs. Dean Wheeler (upper right) Mrs. Wheeler, bride of a few weeks, and her husband had gone into the wilderness to spend the winter. But their adventure soon turned to tragedy. First word of the slaying was brought to Warroad by two hunters. Her husband meanwhile stood guard over her body. When she entered the woods, Mrs. Wheeler, reputed to have been quite wealthy, was wearing a valuable jewelry and carrying $1000. It is said.

26,500 LICENSES ISSUED TEACHERS

Exchanged For Old Licenses Under the Provisions of New Teacher's Licensing Law

ANNUAL REPORT PUBLISHED

Indiana State Normal of Terre Haute Supplied More Teachers Than Other Schools

Indianapolis, Dec. 1.—Approximately 26,500 licenses were issued to teachers in Indiana during the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30, 1924 in exchange for old licenses under the provisions of the new teacher's licensing law.

Five thousand and two hundred ninety teachers received new licenses during the year, also.

This was the announcement made in the annual report today of the teacher's licensing division of the state department of public instruction.

The Indiana State normal school of Terre Haute, supply more teachers who received new licenses during the year than any other school in the state, the report said. Teachers who graduated from this school and who received licenses during the year totaled 713. The Teachers' College of Indianapolis supply 544, the next highest number. Of the standard colleges in the state Indiana university supplies 504, more than any other.

The number coming from various standard normal schools in the state were: Central Normal college, 328; Eastern Division of the Indiana State Normal School, 382; Tri-State College, 141; and Valparaiso college, 128.

The number supplied by the various standard Indiana colleges were: Manchester college, 207; Purdue University, 205; Oakland City college, 173; DePauw university, 165; Evansville college, 104; Hanover college, 102; Indiana Central college, 62; Franklin college, 37; Earlham, 68; Wabash, 41; St. Mary's college, 34; Notre Dame, 14; Goshen college, 13; and St. Mary's of the Woods, 2.

All colleges outside of the state furnished a total of 957 teachers who obtained licenses during the year.

The new teacher's licensing law under which the licenses were exchanged was passed by the last legislature and went into effect September 1923. The new law put new requirements upon teachers before they could obtain licenses and provided for the exchange of old licenses for new ones authorized in the provisions of the new law.

The most essential provisions of the new law were the doing away with examinations as a basis for licensing and places it upon actual school preparation, the minimum of which is placed at thirty-six weeks above high school graduation for elementary licenses and three weeks of college training for high school teachers.
